

ONE HUGHES BILL PASSED

This Shows a Break in the Opposition.

NATIONAL GUARD TO BE

Investigated—Superintendent Kelsey's
Trial Is Resumed—The Hearing
Will Be Concluded This Afternoon.

Albany, N. Y., April 12.—By a unanimous vote the Senate yesterday morning passed Governor Hughes' measure calling for an investigation of the National Guard. This is the first of the bills belonging to Governor Hughes to pass both branches of the legislature, and indicates that the long blockade on his measures is breaking down. The Assembly must again pass the bill because of several slight amendments, but the bill will reach him next week and he will first measure in his programme to arrive.

The trial of Superintendent of Insurance Kelsey was resumed yesterday, and Attorney General Mayer was the first witness. The defense alleges some sensational facts will be presented in the course of the afternoon. The case will be closed this afternoon, and the judiciary committee will report it to the Senate next week. This progress in the Kelsey case also indicates that the legislature is steadily yielding to the pressure invoked by the governor's "appeals to the people."

Friends of ballot reform have asked the governor to make a further appeal on this subject, which is the only one of his recommendations hopelessly buried at present.

FORAKER'S SPEECH TAME.

It Caused General Disappointment in Washington.

Washington, April 12.—Political Washington is greatly disappointed in Senator Foraker's speech at Canton, which seems to lack the vigor usually shown in his public addresses, and which is likely to fall as a vote-getter.

ed Ralph Tyler of Columbus as auditor at the navy department with a salary of $4,000. This is his reply to the Ohio machine, which opposed the appointment of a negro for a federal position in that state; he takes the man to Washington.

The movement for another term for Roosevelt is spreading; more states and men have endorsed him; but the situation takes a humorous turn when John Temple Graves of Georgia suggests that William J. Bryan name Roosevelt in nomination in the Democratic convention as that party's candidate. Colonel Bryan, however, refuses to promise to do so unless conditions change; he favors La Follette if a Republican must be selected to head the Democratic ticket. Congressman Longworth, who is supposed to be near the president, has declared himself in favor of the nomination of William H. Taft, and says he has nothing to add to Roosevelt's statement in relation to another term.

LONDON PAPER RIDICULES

DELMAS-JEROME ORATORY.

It "Would Disgust an English Judge and Jury Alike."

London, April 12.—Commenting in the trial at New York of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, the Evening Standard today ridicules the oratory of Delmas-Jerome and Jerome as being "flapdoodle," say it considers Mr. Delmas the worst sinner in this respect, and adds that it "seemed as if a minor poet had been left loose upon the court."

The paper inquires if it is possible that a jury of practical experienced men could be influenced by such empty rhetoric, and says:

"Orators of such a kind is inconceivable in an English court. It would disgust the judge and jury alike and provoke a bitter remonstrance even from the prisoner at bar."

CONFERENCE AT HAGUE.

United States Formally Invited to Peace Conference.

Washington, April 12.—The State Department has received from Minister Van Swinderen of the Netherlands, the formal notification of the meeting of the second Hague Peace Conference on June 12. The note of the Netherlands Minister says that he has just received this advice from the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Government of her Majesty, and he adds that he has also invited Mexico, to which country he is also accredited, to send delegates to the conference.

It is probable that Secretary Root will be ready to announce the names of the delegates to the conference tonight or tomorrow.

More Than 700 Return to Work at Lorain Yesterday Morning.

Lorain, O., April 12.—There was a regular stampede among the strikers returning to work at the local yards of the American Shipbuilding company yesterday. The number of men who went back is estimated at between 700 and 800.

Every joiner who was out went back, and this department is running with a full force. The shipbuilding department is also opening with nearly its full quota. The carpenter shop is also running nearly to its capacity.

For Mothers

Greatest Care Needed in Selecting Right
Food for Baby.

Every mother should consult her physician before deciding what food to use for her little one. More sickness is caused by the injudicious use of condensed milk and ordinary cow's milk than from all other causes.

Among the half dozen foods that physicians recommend, no one is more highly esteemed than Justified, as when prepared in accordance with the simple directions for use, it is physically the same as mother's milk, containing bone and tooth-forming material that obviates all fear of soft teeth or rickets, and as it is very delicate and easily absorbed, the baby holds it down and thus gains all the food nourishment.

It is the most economical of all artificial foods for the baby, costing 50 cents, $1.00 or $1.50, according to the size of the package. Sold by druggists. When the largest package is bought, a meal for the little baby costs less than a penny.

Liberal sample of Justified will be sent free to any mother, Justified Co., 60 No. Franklin street, Syracuse, N. Y.

INSULTS HEAD OF THE DUMA

Reactionary Openly Accuses
M. Golovin

OF FAVORING "THE LEFT"

Offender at Once Suspended—President's
Motion Carried by a Large Majority—Monarchist Leaves House Shouting Threats.

St. Petersburg, April 12.—M. Purishkevich, Monarchist member of the lower house of Parliament from Besarabia, and vice-president of the Union of the True Russian People, was suspended at this morning's sitting of the lower house of Parliament for insulting President Golovin.

The incident arose when M. Purishkevich suddenly called upon the members to rise as a mark of respect for the persons murdered by Revolutionists, whereupon M. Golovin declared the proposal out of order. M. Purishkevich then shouted:

M. Golovin promptly moved M. Purishkevich's suspension during the sitting, and the motion was carried by a large majority. M. Purishkevich then left the house, threatening the president.

Prince Vassilichikov, the minister of agriculture, and M. von Kaufmann, the minister of education, were present at the sitting, but withdrew after the Purishkevich incident.

Approved by All Factions.

M. Golovin's firmness in defending the dignity of the chair is approved by all factions except a few reactionary fanatics. Count Bobrinsky, president of the Constitutional Conservative party, and Monarchist member of Parliament from Tula, declared that M. Purishkevich's action was not approved by his party. He added that M. Purishkevich had been justly brought to book for unwarranted unparliamentary slurs on the president.

The Constitutional Democrats will today propose a resolution referring the agrarian question to a committee in the hope of ending the protracted debate, which last year continued throughout the whole session.

The Constitutional Democrats will also move the appointment of a committee to report as quickly as possible a bill providing for the inviolability of the person. They wish to pass this measure as the first constructive legislation of Parliament. Count Bobrinsky says the Monarchists are willing to accept such a bill.

President Golovin followed up Wednesday's letter of defiance to Premier Stolypin with a communication protesting against the presence in the halls of Parliament of representatives of the palace guard, who are controlled by the central police administration.

Have No Right to Enter.

According to parliamentary statutes, the police have no right to enter the premises of Parliament unless requested to do so by the president.

M. Stolypin's answer to the first letter of M. Golovin has been received. The premier brusquely reiterates his demand for the exclusion of outside experts from the committees, and intimates that he will order the palace guards to exclude them from the sessions of the committees in case of necessity.

The premier adds that the regulations of the preceding Parliament, on which the claim of the right to employ experts was based, have never been published, and therefore, have no legal status. Finally, the premier explains that his action in writing to M. Golovin was inspired by a desire to come to an agreement without resorting to extreme measures.

Minister of Marine Diledov is preparing a report urging the hastening of the construction of improved Dreadnaughts, which will form the backbone of Russia's new naval programme. And for which only Parliamentary credits are provided for in the budget. The marine minister now contemplates increasing the tonnage of the Russian Dreadnaughts to 22,800 tons, and has finally decided to equip them with turbine engines.

LORD CROMER QUILTS OFFICE.

Sir Eldon Gorst Succeeds as British Agent in Egypt.

London, April 12.—Foreign Secretary Grey announced in the House of Commons yesterday that Lord Cromer, the British agent, and consul general in Egypt, had resigned his post because of ill health, and that Sir Eldon Gorst had been appointed to succeed him.

Lord Cromer (Evelyn Baring) has been the British agent and consul general in Egypt since 1883. He formerly occupied other diplomatic positions, including those of private secretary to the Earl of Northbrook when the latter was viceroy of India, 1872-76; commissioner of the Egyptian public debt, 1877-79, and financial member of the council of the governor general of India, 1880.

The reports of Lord Cromer on the progress of the various administrative departments of the Egyptian government, issued by the Foreign Office April 3, dealt at length with the anti-Bosnian movement known as "Egyptian nationalism," which he described as a plant "of exotic rather than indigenous growth," and as being "deeply tinged with pan-Islamism," thereby meaning, he added, "a combination of all Moslems throughout the world to defy and resist the Christian powers." Viewed in this aspect, the report continued, the movement required to be watched carefully by all European nations, as it might possibly lead to sporadic outbreaks in different parts of the world.

Sir Eldon Gorst has been assistant under secretary of state for foreign affairs since 1904. He was born in New Zealand in 1861 and entered the diplomatic service as an attaché in 1883. He became controller of direct taxes for the Egyptian government in 1899, under the secretary of state for finance in 1894, adviser to the ministry of the interior in 1894 and financial adviser to the Egyptian government, 1898-1904.

DON'T WAIT TOO LONG.

At the first sign of backache or pain in the region of the kidneys, or weakness and urinary troubles, the following simple prescription should be used:

Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce; compound syrup sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good prescription pharmacy will supply these three ingredients at small cost, which can easily be mixed by shaking well in a bottle. This is said to force the kidneys to filter the sour acids and poisons from the blood, overcoming the worst cases of rheumatism.

KNOWS NOTHING OF TREATY.

Fielding Speaks Officially For Canada
on Relations With U. S.

Ottawa, April 12.—Mr. Lewis of West Huron, asked the Government in the House of Commons yesterday if there was any truth in the report from Washington as to a treaty being drafted between Great Britain and the United States in respect to the appointment of a joint high commission between Canada and the United States. He said he hoped it was not correct. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, who is acting premier, replying, said:

"I have no information on the subject and it is safe to assume that the newspaper reports of that character are not reliable."

Boston Americans Take Great Game From Athletics

IN FOURTEEN INNINGS

Coombs Pitched a Strong Game for Thirteen and Then Weakened, Allowing Four Hits and Giving a Pass.

Philadelphia, April 12.—The Boston and Philadelphia Americans opened the baseball season in a hair-raising game of fourteen innings, which finally went to Boston by a score of 8 to 4. Coombs was in the box for the home team and held the visitors until the fourteenth when four safe hits and a free pass gave the visitors four runs and the game.

Young pitched eight innings and Tannehill finished the game for Boston. Both held the home sluggers safely. The fielding on both sides was rather erratic.

The Athletics scored first in the third inning on Knight's hit, Coombs' sacrifice and an error by Wagner on an attempt to field Cross' grounder. Sullivan, the new Boston outfielder, saved a score or two by making a brilliant catch of Seybold's long rap. Boston evened up in the next inning on an error by Knight, Freeman's sacrifice and Ferris' two-base.

The visitors had a bad seventh inning when Schreck singled after Murphy had fanned. Lord fled to Wagner and Schreck stole. Then Knight tripled and Hoey followed with a snuff of Coombs' fly, bringing in two scores.

The first man up for Boston's in the ninth, Ferris, landed for a home run over the right field fence. Wagner was out and Criger drew a pass. Shaw, batting for Young, forced Criger. Then Murphy furnished Sullivan's grounder, and a single by Collins and a double by Unglaub brought in two runs, putting the visitors one ahead.

Tannehill went into the box and Schreck opened up with a double. Lord was out but Collins failed to get Schreck at the plate on Knight's offer. Coombs fanned and Knight was out at home on Hartwell's rap.

With the score thus tied, the teams went four more innings with each side easily disposed of. The fourteenth opened up with Tannehill at the bat. Murphy threw him out, but Sullivan came to time with a double. Coombs passed Collins. Unglaub landed for a triple, scoring Sullivan and Collins. Hoey fouled out, but Freeman made a home run. Ferris singled and stole second, but Wagner closed the inning by fanning.

The home players went out in one, two, three order, Ferris taking Murphy's fly. Hoey gathering in Schreck's ditto and Collins taking Lord's foul.

VICTIM OF "HOODOO" MILL.

George Larsen Killed at Dorset on Wednesday.

Dorset, April 12.—The climax to a series of accidents which have given rise to the name of "Hoodoo" mill, came yesterday at the Shuttleworth marble mill, when George Larsen of New York, aged 33 years and boss of a gang of eight men who were moving a big fly-wheel, met his death in a peculiar manner, the exact cause being a mystery. Larsen was pinned down by the fly-wheel, which weighs three tons, and which slipped off the axle at the men were rolling it into the mill. He was caught under one of the spokes, and was quickly released without a mark on his body, but succumbed to the nervous shock, it is believed, ten minutes later. The only apparent explanation of the man's death is that the pressure of the spoke on his stomach in the region of the solar plexus, a nervous center, brought a total physical collapse. There is a general feeling here that an autopsy should be held to determine just why the man died, and the selectmen of the town may be called upon to take some action in the matter.

Slipped on the Skids.

Larsen, who was a millwright, had no relatives here, having come to town two weeks ago to superintend the placing of the fly-wheel. Shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening the wheel was being rolled into the mill on skids by Larsen and his men. Suddenly the wheel slipped and fell over toward Larsen, who was caught underneath one of the spokes and pinned down. Between the spoke and the ground there was a space of seven inches, the spoke resting across the man's stomach.

TWO SISTERS KILLED. Run Down by an Express on Their Way Home.

Worcester, Mass., April 12.—Lena, 19 years old, and Mary Beebe, 21, daughters of Mrs. Louise Derosier, both of them clerks in a department store, were killed together Wednesday night while on their way home from work. In making a short cut from the Hamond street crossing to their home on Canterbury street they walked down the railroad track. The Albany express was three hours later, and a cloud of steam hid from view the girls as they stepped from behind a freight train.

When the steam cleared away, engineer Mendon saw the girls rolling down an embankment. The bodies of the sisters were picked up on the bank at the rear of the house in which they lived.
